

Student launches campaign to bring home American soldiers!

Press Release

What: Stephanie Drysdale has created an image of a military officer handing a folded flag to the mourning mother of a fallen soldier. If you look closely, you will notice that each pixel within the image is the face of a soldier who has been killed fighting in the Iraq War.

We must have all American soliders back on U.S. soil by August 31, 2010 because every day, the number of fallen soldiers grows. Stephanie is collecting signatures for her petition to show how many Americans want the U.S. out of Iraq. She is also encouraging people to download the image and to show support for Who Needs This War. Stephanie hopes that everyone will place the image in a window, a car, or on a wall, as well as send the image to friends adn family who want the soldiers home.

Where: In front of O'Neill's on the Pacific Garden Mall.

When: Monday, May 25, 12:00 noon-5:00 pm

Who: Stephanie Drysdale, founder of Who Needs This War?
Merit Academy 11th Grade Student
(Mentor: Merit Educational Consultants)

Why: As of May 15, 2009, 4,276 American soldiers have died fighting in the Iraq War. Barack Obama says that most of the soldiers still fighting will be brought home by August 31, 2010. However, he plans to keep 35,000-50,000 troops in Iraq until December 31, 2011. This is too long to continue risking the lives of our soldiers! ALL troops must come home by August 31, 2010.
